

Kate Jordan: Personal Leadership facilitator and coach

Kate's mission, as an experienced work-shop facilitator and accredited Enneagram coach, is to promote and action personal growth opportunities for executives, management, supervisors, staff, and for the youth, to be able to acquire skills and techniques that will activate inner potential through interactive and experiential learning.

Whether facilitating visionary strategic sessions, Leadership development programmes, delving into Emotional Intelligence and Personal Mastery work-shops, exploring the skills of superb Customer Service, or embedding Communication and Assertiveness skills, Kate is able to tune into the individual and group needs in order to create an environment where true learning can occur.

Kate's passion and interest is to work with people who are motivated to journey through a process of personal growth and transformation. Kate has over 16 years of facilitation and coaching experience in the fields of Leadership Development, Personal Mastery and Business skills development, and one-on-one coaching. Her contribution drives performance, increases engagement levels and encourages stronger personal alignment with company brand and identity.

Kate works with a broad range of clients and at different levels of leadership. She has worked across a number of industries including financial, media, telecommunications, IT, retail, construction, mining, sport, training institutions and public sector organisations.

Kate's vision in working with youth is to realise an empowered and dynamic youth, who are equipped with fundamental life-skills and a healthy mind-set so as to pursue their visions, dreams, goals and hearts' desires in order to become influential leaders of tomorrow.

Kate has a Degree in Journalism and Linguistics and a Diploma in Basic Counselling. Kate has travelled the world with a TEFL qualification teaching English as a foreign language. She is married and has two wonderful sons. Kate lives in Cape Town, enjoys an outdoor life-style, is passionate about her animals, and is involved in women empowerment programmes with Women for Africa.
